JACK HOPPER

Jack Hopper Joins Staff

Appointment of Jack Hopper as director of public relations at Jacksonville State College was announced today by President Houston Cole. Hopper, a native of Gadsden, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Hopper.

A 1954 graduate of Gadsden High School, Hopper served four years in the U. S. Navy before entering Jacksonville State College. He transferred to the University of Alabama a year later where he was awarded a degree in journalism in 1962 and was named "outstanding journalism graduate" by the faculty.

Following his graduation he was employed by The Birmingham News as a traveling news writer and continued that

Dr. Martin Challenges Freshmen

A record 1,800 incoming Jacksonville State freshmen were challenged to accept "the greatest treasure in the world except for the Christian church - an education" at a unique pre-orientation session here Sunday afternoon.

Between 3,000-3,500 new students and parents crowded Leone Cole Center to hear Dr. Harold Martin, minister of the Highlands Methodist Church in Birmingham, deliver an inspirational message. In fact, the crowd was so large some 500 persons couldn't find standing room in the huge auditorium.

Dr. Martin, using what he described as "coined words" said the incoming freshmen would find themselves in one of three groups:

"All freshmen enter college as 'not-knowers', some become 'mis-knowers' and misuse what they learn, but I hope that every one of you becomes a 'wise-knower', and utilizes this sea of knowledge that is available to you."

Dr. Houston Cole, Jacksonville State president, told the students "there never has been a generation in history that has a brighter future--if you are willing to pay the price."

He told the students that if they "behaved themselves, study at least 30 hours a week outside of class, and stick with it," the future is

Enrollment Of 4500 To Start Classes; Faculty Reaches 170 For Fall Term

With an anticipated enrollment of approximately 4500, the college will start off its 84th year with a faculty of 170 with additional part-time teachers. The number of professors holding doctor's degrees was greatly increased this year, as well as a large number of instructors holding master's degrees.

Dr. Christopher H. Horsfield, who will teach mathematics, has a BS degree from the University of the South, MA from Duke University, and PhD from the University of Alabama, all in math. Dr. Kenneth Earl Landers, who will teach biology, has a BS from Florence State; MS and PhD degrees from Auburn University with a major in botany and minor in zoology.

Dr. John Walker McCain, Jr., who holds the AB from Newberry College; MA, University of North Carolina; ME, Duke University; PhD, University of North Carolina; and LLB, Emory University, will teach English.

Dr. Martha Webster Simpson (Mrs. C. L.) will teach German. She has an AB degree and education diploma from the University of London; Licenciee es Lettres de 'l'Universite d' Aix, Marseille, France; and PhD in French and German from the University of Grenoble.

Dr. Charles W. Smith, who will teach political science, comes to Jacksonville from the U. S. State Department. He has the AB degree from Park College, Parkville, Mo.; MA, University of Michigan; and PhD, University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Roland Thornburg and Dr. Charlotte Thornburg are returning to the faculty after a 15-month absence during which they completed work on their EdD degrees at the University of Alabama. He will return to the business department and she to the education department.

Dr. L. G. Sanford, who joined the faculty last fall to teach biology, completed work on his doctorate during the summer.

Dr. Alta Millican, a former member of the faculty, has returned after being a member of the Auburn University faculty for the past seven years. She heads the library science department. She holds the MA degree in library named "outstanding journalism graduate" by the faculty. Following his graduation he was employed by The Birmingham News as a traveling news writer and continued that association until August 1966. He covered legislative sessions and events in Alabama and throughout the nation. In 1965 he was a member of the News' team which received the Associated Press spot news and sweepstakes award in Alabama for its coverage of the civil rights marches in Selma and Montgomery. He also won the "Big N" at the Birmingham News in 1965 for "creative enterprise."

REGISTRATION--These crowded lines fighting their way into Leone Cole Auditorium signal the beginning of another semester of hard work for the students at Jacksonville State College. But all these worries end as classes begin today.

Hopper is married to the former Janice Biddle, also of Gadsden, and they have two sons, Mike, 3 1/2, and Mark, 1 1/2.

He is a brother of Wayne Hopper, former popular band director at Jacksonville High School, now director of the Anniston High School Band.

A MIMOSA staff meeting will be held Wednesday night, Sept. 14, at 7:30, in room 105 of Bibb Graves Hall.

He told the students that if they "behaved themselves, study at least 30 hours a week outside of class, and stick with it," the future is unlimited. Dr. Theron Montgomery, dean of the college, and Mrs. Miriam Jackson, dean of women, explained some school procedures and welcomed the students, as did Dean Lawrence Miles, the school registrar.

Dr. Martin stressed upon the youngsters, leaving home for the first time, "there is no competition at the top if you have the desire and the will to prepare. The world will be yours and you will be prepared if you avail yourselves to the knowledge offered you."

The Birmingham minister urged the young people to maintain several basic principles. "If you express gratitude, maintain honor, maintain discipline, and show respect, there is no way you will be not-knowers."

GEM OF THE HILL--Pretty Susan Carter has her mind on this week's big football game between Jax State and Florence State--and not books. She can be forgiven this time because the rivalry game has been switched from the closing game to the first for both schools. Kick-off is 7:30 p. m. at Snow Memorial Stadium. The blonde-haired, green-eyed young lady is the first Gem of the Hills for the new semester at Jax State.

Dormitory Named In Honor Of The Late Frank Dixon

Mark Sept. 12 as a day when Jacksonville State took pride in honoring the late Gov. Frank Dixon, an adopted son of Alabama.

Mark this day as an opportunity for Alabamians to repay one who did so much for their state.

Mark this day as one to recall the great accomplishments of a man--a statesman--whose administration was characterized by conservation, honesty, and thrift.

With these words, Jacksonville State College officially dedicated its newest men's residence hall Frank Dixon Hall Sunday, in honor of Dixon, who served from 1939-43.

Mrs. Juliet Dixon, his widow, his son, Sam Dixon and family, were in attendance for the brief but elaborate ceremony. Jax State is the first institute of higher learning to honor the war-time governor, who died in 1965.

Three well-known state politicians who served with Dixon -- former Jefferson County Sen. James Simpson, Earl McGowin of Chapman, and Judge William Beck of Ft. Payne--eulogized Dixon at the ceremony.

Dixon Hall will house 208 students this fall, helping greatly to alleviate a rising housing shortage on this growing state institution campus.

Mrs. Dixon had the late governor's pretty nine-year-old granddaughter, Joy, cut the ribbon officially opening the all-brick, air-conditioned structure.

The distinguished lady sat silently, with tears rolling down her cheeks as she heard the praise heaped upon her husband's dedication to duty.

Former Sen. Simpson said "what a magnificent example Frank Dixon set for the men who will live in Dixon Hall. He always kept his head towards the rising sun.

"You do well to recall his administration on this college campus today," Simpson stressed.

McGowin, of Chapman, said "Frank Dixon was the most thorough organizer of any governor in modern history.

Dixon once said, according to McGowin, "never again will there be deficit financing in Alabama--and there hasn't. It's too bad the federal government doesn't follow this example."

Judge Beck, representing the State Board of Education as well as recalling his days in the Legislature when Dixon was governor, said "the late governor hesitated when I approached him about naming this fine building in his honor. He was modest. He didn't even tell his wife about our conversation."

"What Frank Dixon was will outlive all the buildings in this state. Frank Dixon will never die in the minds and hearts of Alabamians," he emphasized.

Dr. Cole's remarks were framed and given to Mrs. Dixon. The school president said "Frank Dixon was the father of our pardon and parole system, our civil service system, and our teacher retirement plan. Now, although all of these are largely expanded, they still owe their growth to the foundation provided by this able statesman."

"It is indeed fitting that the State Board of Education designate this dormitory as Frank Dixon Hall in honor of one who gave of himself so unstintingly to the cause of education."

Dixon Hall is part of a total $10 million construction program now underway at the northeast Alabama school. A new cafeteria, located directly across the street from Dixon Hall, is now open for students. The dining hall will seat 2,400 students. Construction will start soon on a $1.6 million classroom building and a $1.2 student commons building.

turned after being a member of the Auburn University faculty for the past seven years. She heads the library science department. She holds the MA degree in library science from FSU, and EdD from Auburn University.

Dr. James A. Reaves, who joined the faculty last spring, was appointed chairman of the graduate division to succeed Dr. Reuben Self, who retired. Dr. Reaves received his EdD degree at the University of Alabama.

Other new members of the faculty include the following:

Cecil H. Golden, assistant professor of foreign languages, who will teach Spanish, has AB degree from Samford University and MA from the University of Alabama. Ronnie Harris, who is working on his doctorate at the University of Alabama, will be assistant professor of physical education.

New instructors include the following:

Wayne Dempsey and Rodney Shirey, JSC graduates who have received their master's degrees in mathematics at the University of Alabama; Mrs. Ossie W. Gannaway, Eugene Johnson Williams, Mrs. Gaylor Williams, Miss Anne Meredith, English.

Mrs. David Moon, physical education; Paul Allen Dunbar, political science; James L. Walker, history; Charles Hatfield, business; Rudolph Lass, piano, part-time faculty.

Graduate assistants include Mrs. Henry L. Chisolm, Ferrell Drummond, Mrs. R. J. Rentschler, English; Mrs. John W. Barham, sociology; Jerry Edmonds, recreation; Mrs. Marion Rollins, laboratory assistant, and David Moon, laboratory instructor.

Mr. Dunbar received his BA degree in history from The Citadel, and his MA from East Carolina College; Mr. Walker has a BA degree from NE Louisiana University and a MA degree from Louisiana State University.

Mr. Hatfield has a BA from Wabach College and MBA from the University of Indiana; Mr. Lass received the Bachelor of Music Education in 1962 from the University of Indiana; BM in piano in 1963; and Master of Music in 1964 from the Chicago Conservatory.

Mr. Williams has a BA from Auburn University. MA

Let's Turn Over A New Leaf

This week a brand new school year begins and there are many brand new things on the campus--a new cafeteria and recreation building, men's dormitory, women's dormitory, renovated Graves Hall and expanded Snow Memorial Stadium.

All the buildings are handsome examples of architecture on the outside and of beautifully - planned decor on the inside. Great pains have been taken to make all of them places where students could enjoy attractive and functional surroundings.

Graves Hall, where many will be attending classes, has undergone a complete face-lifting. For the first time all classrooms and offices are equipped with neon lighting and draw draperies. If these draperies are cared for properly they will last a long time, but if they are mistreated they will soon become misshapen, bedraggled and unattractive. The same could be said for furnishings and accessories in all buildings.

The best way students can show appreciation for all this improvement, beauty and comfort is to take good care of the buildings and their furnishings. It is hard to imagine their being misused and abused, and such treatment would surely be an indication to school authorities that students have no appreciation for the nicer things.

So, if you have pride in your institution help take care of all the good things placed here for enjoyment and beautification. Express your appreciation for having them made available by protecting them for those who follow.

Your Newspaper

The COLLEGIAN is the student newspaper here at JSC, and it is just what the name implies, a STUDENT newspaper.

Any student, club, or organization on campus may have items printed in the COLLEGIAN, by turning in their material to the COLLEGIAN office located in Hammond Hall by Wednesday before the Monday of publication. All information must be typed and double-spaced before the above mentioned Wednesday. If the articles are not typed, turn in the written stories by Tuesday.

School Spirit

One of the most important problems which the students at JSC have been faced with in the past is lack of school spirit. This especially noteworthy during the fall of the year when football dominates the sports life of every student. It is the responsibility of every student to forget the ties they may have with high school, and begin to develop a strong bond of school spirit here at your home, Jacksonville State.

Our cheerleaders this past summer went to a cheering clinic held at the University of Southern Mississippi, and competed with many of the major colleges in this region. They financed their trip to the clinic by contributions from both students and the people of the town of Jacksonville, and they were rewarded for their sacrifice by capturing the spirit stick two of the three in competition. The student body should be proud of their fine cheerleaders and show appreciation by doing their best to follow the cheerleaders at all the football games.

We here at JSC have the No. 1 band and football team in the state, now let's be No. 1 in school spirit.

Conduct Regulations

The discipline of the college is administered by a standing discipline committee and the college reserves the right to suspend and/or expel any student without formal charges when such action is thought advisable.

Students who violate the "General Conduct Regulations," violate custom or Christian principles, or shock the community sense of propriety, or reflect discredit upon the institution, may be disciplined by the designated college official, or more likely may have their actions brought to the attention of the discipline committee for appropriate disposal.

DR. CHARLES SMITH

1. Students are expected to conform to the laws of the United States of America, the State of Alabama, and the City of Jacksonville. Any student who is charged with violation of a federal, state, or city law, or who is indicted for any such offense, shall be subject to disciplinary action, pending the outcome of his trial.

2. Any student who makes a false or misleading statement to any official of the college is subject to immediate expulsion.

3. Alcoholic beverages may not be brought on the campus at any time, and students may not show evidence of drinking while on campus. This applies to all functions sponsored by any organization of the college whether on the campus or off.

4. Smoking is not permitted in the classrooms, library, or dining hall. Women are further restricted from smoking outside buildings and in halls of academic buildings.

5. The possession of firearms, firecrackers, or any

JSC Receives Building Aid

Final approval by the Economic Development Administration of a $299,945 grant to help build a four-story classroom building at Jacksonville State College was reported recently by Sens. Lister Hill and John Sparkman.

They had announced preliminary approval Aug. 9.

The grant will be supplemented by a $214,231 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and $128,518 provided by Jacksonville State College.

The new four-story building is part of an expansion program planned to help upgrade student education in the northeast Alabama area.

Letter To The Editor

During recent months, on seven occasions, half bushel bags, or boxes of about that size, filled with beer cans have been placed in our front yard, or under the shubbery along the edge of it.

Due to their positions it was obvious that none of these could have been thrown from a passing vehicle. Either a person left a car to deliver them, or they were carried from the point of origin. The last consignment included 31 beer cans.

One morning last week I gathered two heaping bushels of beer cans, liquor bottles, paper cups, etc. from along the edge of the street in front of our place.

Outside of our property line is on State Highway #204. There is a statelaw authorizing $100 fine for throwing such trash along the roads of Alabama.

I will give $50 for information leading to the identification and conviction of the person or persons putting such, or similar, collections of trash on our edge of the street. The sole condition of payment being that the culprit be fined and required to pay the legally set penalty of $100.

Discipline Procedures Reviewed

The discipline procedures of the college were reviewed during the summer and changes have been made as follows:

1. Most discipline cases will be heard by the honor council, composed of faculty members and SGA officers.

2. Mr. Edwards, Dean Jackson or Dean Willman will gather preliminary facts in each case and present these, in the presence of the student(s) involved, to the assembled honor council.

3. The honor council will continue the case and make whatever decisions it feels are equitable.

4. In rare cases the matter may be settled by Mr. Edwards, Dean Jackson, or Dean Willman at their discretion, rather than the student having to appear before the honor council.

Faculty Invited

As a COLLEGIAN editor, I would like to take this opportunity to invite all faculty and staff members to join us in producing the COLLEGIAN.

We feel that if the paper is to represent the entire framework of JSC, then we must have the interest and participation of the faculty and staff members as well as the student body.

Just turn your special works into the COLLEGIAN office located in Hammond Hall and we will see that it is printed.

Welcome Students

Welcome, freshmen and all new students. By this time you should be feeling at home on the Jax State campus, and the COLLEGIAN extends warm greetings to the "friendliest campus in the South."

Although official figures have not been released on enrollment, predictions were for the largest number ever to register here, and judging from observations made by representatives of the COLLEGIAN, these predictions will prove accurate.

As most of you have heard before, Jax State is the third largest college in Alabama, and is rapidly approaching university status. The name of the institution will be changed as soon as President Cole and his advisers feel that the school can legitimately live up to the name. Assistance has been requested to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and their representatives will visit the campus in November to make a survey of what is needed for the school to measure up to university status.

A $10 million building program is in progress on the campus and several buildings have been completed. Contract will be let this month on a new laboratory - classroom building to be located across the highway on the Marion property recently purchased. Also to be erected on this property will be a new library and an art center. A student union building will be erected between Graves Hall and Stephen - son Gym facing the tennis courts.

Between 20 and 25 new faculty members were added this fall, more graduate degrees have been added, and the curriculum is being expanded in many ways.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Many activities are being planned for the students by the college and the Student Government Association. The Jacksonville Community Concert Association and the college will sponsor a series of musical concerts beginning Oct. 20 with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra. President Cole has also booked for lectures Miss Pauline Frederick, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and Edwin R. Canham, editor of The Christian Science Monitor. Other attractions will be announced later.

The first football game, against Jacksonville arch rival, Florence State, will take place in Snow Memorial Stadium on Saturday night and the college band, "The Southerners", and the Marching Ballerinas will make their first fall appearance on the campus. The appeared recently in Birmingham between halves at the Houston Oilers-New York Jets professional football game.

In the meantime classes will get under way on Wednesday and the fall semester will be under way before the week is out.

Meeting Slated

A publications board meeting for anyone interested in the position of business manager of the MIMOSA will be held in Dr. Calvert's office Wednesday, Sept. 14, at 11:30 a. m.

"I hear that your son is getting on quite well."

DR. CHARLES SMITH

Dr. Smith Joins Faculty

Dr. Charles Smith, new associate professor of political science, comes from the U.S. State Department where he served as public opinion officer for 21 years.

Dr. Smith, a native of Missouri, holds the AB degree from Park College; MA from the University of Michigan; and PhD from the University of Wisconsin. Before going to the State Department he was associate professor of political science at the University of Kentucky, and held a similar position at the University of Alabama from 1936-42.

Off-Campus Regulations

Students who live off-campus will be interested to know that the college is encouraging their landlords and landladies to put their rental units in tip-top shape for the benefit of students.

A list of "minimum housing standards" must be met for a landlord to be on the college's "approved" list. If the landlord rents dwelling units which are on, or adjacent to the landlord's dwelling, (thus providing a nearby, responsible person in case of emergency or if a renting student falls seriously ill) the dwelling is placed on the college's "preferred approved" list.

A renting student is encouraged to ask landlords if the dwelling is college-approved or check at the dean of students' office to see if it is approved.

Students are free to reside in non-approved, off-campus housing but are encouraged to ask the landlord to meet all items on the minimum housing standards list, available at the dean of students.

5. The possession of firearms, firecrackers, or any other such devices which may injure the health or well-being of students is prohibited.

6. Gambling in any form is prohibited on the campus or at any function under college jurisdiction.

7. Excessive public display of affection is prohibited at any time.

8. Men are not to converse with girls through girl's dormitory windows. Go to the dorm desk and ask to speak to the girl, please.

Foreign Students Are Listed

Students from 18 foreign countries will make up the International House family this fall, according to John R. Stewart, director of the program. Mr. Stewart stated that there will possibly be two more added before the summer ends.

The new students include the following:

Guiseppe Bolognese from Bari, Italy, who plans to take courses in political science and economics. He was the recipient of an American Field Service Award and graduated from Mariemont High School in Ohio. He speaks four languages.

Robert Fisher of Oberstdorf, Germany, son of a lieutenant colonel in the German Army who was stationed at Fort McClellan Chemical School as a liaison officer. He speaks four languages and plans to study economics and business.

Gijsbert Frankenhuis of Enschede, Holland, whose family are friends of the late Lee Friebaum, a trustee of International Endowment Foundation, Inc. He speaks three languages and is interested in business.

John Gelernater of LaPaz, Bolivia, speaks four languages and is interested in engineering subjects. He also plays the violin and has been a member of the National Symphony Orchestra of Bolivia.

Said Hissin of Amman, Jordan, who will study biology. Son of a merchant, he speaks Arabic and English and is interested in football, and folk dancing.

Ana Sophie Lacarriere of Paris, France, will study literature. Daughter of the manager of a public relations firm, she speaks three languages, plays the piano and guitar.

TEACHER AND ARTIST AND HOMEMAKER--Dr. Martha Webster Simpson (Mrs. C. L.), who combines the talents of homemaker, teacher and artist, will join the Jacksonville State College faculty this fall to teach German. A native Scotswoman, she has lived in the U. S. since 1955.

Scotswoman Joins JSC Faculty To Teach German

Dr. Martha Webster Simpson (Mrs. C. L.), a native Scotswoman, language professor, artist and world traveler, joined the faculty this fall to teach German. Her husband is assistant professor of French.

Dr. Simpson's interesting career has included dual roles. She holds the PhD degree in French with a minor in German from the University of Grenoble in France with highest honors--recognition normally given to native students only -- and lon, and in Hong Kong and Japan where she spent two years teaching and painting.

She has also traveled in Spain, Luxembourg and Switzerland.

After her marriage to Mr. Simpson, a native of An-niston, they lived in New York City where he taught French until coming to Alabama last year. They have two children, Ian, 4, and Allison Hope, one-year-old.

Rev. Martin Keynote Speaker For Baptist Pre-school Retreat

A pre-school retreat was held by the Baptist Student Union on Sept. 9-11, at the First Baptist Church.

Wayne Bowen of Gadsden, newly elected president, presided. The Rev. Charles Martin, pastor of Parker Memorial Baptist Church in Anniston, was the keynote speaker; Rodney Hale, youth minister of Piedmont First Baptist Church, interpreted the retreat theme, "Deeper With God"; and Terry Jordan, Gadsden, directed the singing.

The Rev. Jimmy Sims, pastor of Alexandria Baptist Church, spoke on Friday evening, Sept. 9, and the Rev. Donald Barfield, pastor of Leeds First Baptist Church, addressed the retreat on Saturday night. The Rev. John Norman, host pastor, closed the retreat Sunday morning.

Other features of the meeting were a freshman orientation conference for all new Baptist students led by Mrs. J. B. Jackson, dean of women,

Dr. Simpson received her AB degree and education diploma from the University of London, and the Licenciée des Lettres de L'Université d'Aix, Marseille, France.

She won the German Language Prize at Sherborn Language School, and the French Language Prize at Bedford College, University of London, awarded the student with the highest scholastic average.

She received scholarships from Bedford College for graduate study in Belgium and France, and a year's post-graduate study in France and Italy from the University of London.

After teaching French and German in England, she came to New York City to teach at the Berlitz School of Languages. She also studied painting at the Art Student's League and in 1958 won the Edward McDowell Travelling Scholarship which permitted her to travel in the British Isles, Europe, India, Cey-

Student Health Insurance Still Available At JSC

For those students who missed the chance to purchase the student health insurance at registration, you can still avail yourselves of this fine insurance. This insurance policy will cover the student 24 hours a day with the policy running as long as a year. This year the student health insurance is being sold by the Cotton State Health Insurance Company, a local company, who will give each student personal service if the need should arrive.

All students who have not as yet taken out this student insurance and wish additional information should contact the traffic clerk in her office, located in the Student Union Building.

Peck and Drawdy were starters for the Gamecocks last season, while newcomers Gables and Mann will be counted on for backup work.

Abbott Receives Sports Award

Rudy Abbott, sports information director for Jacksonville State, has been selected a winner for producing the outstanding football press brochure in 1965 for a small college. This award was made to Abbott, by the Football Writers Association of America.

Abbott, who only this summer was named to a full-time position on the Jacksonville staff, is out to win this award for the second straight year, and this year's brochure contains more facts and other information dealing with football and the other sports at Jacksonville.

NFL Dealt Severe Blow

If the American Football League ever expected to reach the level of the NFL it was dealt a severe blow in the merger this winter. While final merger between the two leagues will not take place for a few more years, the American League lost its chance to gain on the older league. Due to the new common draft between the two leagues, the AFL can no more than hold its status quo for the moment. There will be no tremendous bidding wars between the two leagues that fattened the pocketbooks of more than a few college seniors the last two years. There is little chance that the AFL will come up with a gate attraction of the caliber of a Joe Namath. The merger only succeeded in strengthening the NFL.

There will be a championship game between the two league champions. The NFL has been made a three touchdown favorite before the season has started. The Nevada bookies may take it off the betting board by January. There won't be much action by then.

Gamecocks To Meet Florence

When the Jacksonville State Gamecocks line up against the Florence Lions on Sept. 17 they will be trying for their third straight win over the Lions, plus, shooting for third straight ACC championship.

In the 14-game series between the two schools, the Lions hold the winning edge, winning eight, losing four and there have been two ties. However, in the last four years the Lions have found it very difficult to beat our Gamecocks, the last time was in 1961, when the Jaxmen fell 17-0. Since then the closest the Lions have come have been two ties; (7-7 in 1962, and 0-0 in 1963), with the Gamecocks winning the last two years, 28-0 in 1964, and 6-0 in 1965.

This year the Lions should be stronger and ready to improve on last year's record of 4-6. Strongest points for the Lions will be the backfield and line, with the only notable weakness lying at the end position.

Cheerleaders Win Ribbons

Jacksonville State cheerleaders attended the annual cheerleader clinic held at the University of Southern Mississippi Aug. 7-12. Competition was graded every day throughout the week and ribbons were awarded daily in the competition to outstanding performances of the more than 40 schools that sent representatives to the clinic.

Renewed Interest In Division Race

There will be renewed interest in the eastern division race in the National Football League. The Cleveland Browns, minus the great Jimmy Brown, appear to be more human than in the past two seasons when they walked away with the division championship and one world title. Best bet to upset the Browns are the young and hungry Dallas Cowboys. The Cowboys, first expansion club in the NFL, appear to be ready to make a run for the title this time. With their younger players finally maturing, the Cowboys have the horses to win this year. The new roll-out attack developed by Coach Tom Landry fit well with quarterback Don Meredith's style of play.

The New York Giants are the prohibitive favorite to finish third in the east. The Eagles, Redskins, Steelers, and Falcons are slated to bring up the rear. The often-injured St. Louis Cardinals were once a title hope, but injuries have eliminated them from consideration by most.

The western division is in a dog fight as usual. There may be three teams in the West better than any one in the East. The Baltimore Colts and Green Bay Packers are co-favorites to win the title, backed up and pressed hard by the Chicago Bears and the Minnesota Vikings. The L.A. Rams, S. F. 49'ers, and Detroit Lions trail the field.

The Bears have many individual stars, such as Gale Sayers and Dick Butkus, but don't seem to have the consistency to do it. My pick is the Colts. They came close last year but were defeated by injuries to their quarterbacks as much as anything else. With John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo healthy, the Colts have to be the favorite in my book. The Packers don't have the passing attack that will win. Bart Starr does a good job, but he is short of outstanding receivers. The Packers are old and the Colts have the receivers. So ends our fearless forecast.

Jacksonville won third place the first day, second place the second day, and third place the third day. In the final competition Jacksonville tied with Auburn for honorable mention. Jacksonville was also voted the most spirited squad twice during the competition. No other squad was voted this honor more than once. For this Jacksonville received two spirit sticks and was allowed to carry one home with them.

Congratulations are in order for the Jacksonville State cheerleaders for their fine showing.

Jax State Fight Song

Fight on, fight on for ole' Jax State
We're proud that we're from Alabama
Fight on, now don't you hesitate,
Courage, pride, and honor will lead you on to victory, so
Fight on, fight for the Red and White
We're gonna howl tonight.
Come on you Gamecocks fight and see
That we will win the victory.
